Mr. William J. Casey
Central Intelligence Agency
Washington, D.C. 20505

Dear Mr. Casey:

I write to you with respect and admiration for your government contributions. I am working on an educational project involving the production of 60-minute videotaped interviews of very prominent people in the U.S. These tapes are to be distributed to high schools, junior colleges, and universities around the nation. The purpose of the project is to stimulate students to think and learn by bringing prominent figures into the classrooms through videotapes. Over the last two years I have conducted several interviews of prominent psychologists and sociologists (at such universities as Harvard, Columbia, UCLA, Stanford, and Michigan), and I am now expanding the project to include a few well-known government officials.

Mr. Casey, I respectfully request a 60-minute interview with you, focusing on the Central Intelligence Agency, and your perceptions on our society. If preferable to you, you could determine virtually all conditions of the interview, and we could determine the questions weeks before the interview. Students today need additional stimulation in the classroom, and I believe that your comments will attract substantial attention, and stimulate students to think.

I respectfully request that you consider granting a 60-minute interview. If you would like to receive any additional information about me or my project, I would be happy to supply whatever information you request. If you are inclined to assist me in this project, I have enclosed an "Intent to Participate" form that you may sign and send to me. I hope this letter reaches you, and that I shall be hearing from you in the near future. Thank you.

Sincerely,

Associate Professor
